Mentorship Program

Every resident of the Global Living Center is paired up with a resident in the upperclassmen GLC as their mentor.

The mentoring process allows GLC residents to gain real-life experience on a variety of aspects about Bentley. Mentors help residents by sharing their valuable experiences concerning leadership positions, networking, and what they have learned about Bentley thus far. They create a support network amongst the floor that can last long beyond their first year. In addition, if the resident is interested, they can live in the upperclass community and serve as a mentor themselves. This feature of the GLC floor makes the transition through a student’s first year that much easier to navigate.

About The Floor

The Global Living Center (GLC) is a specialty community that allows first year students to interact with students from all over the world who attend Bentley. Different resources related to diversity and culture are explored through interactive programming and networking opportunities. Specialized programs and events allow for an in-depth look into the diverse experiences of Bentley students.

The Perks:

- Bonding with students in a supportive, welcoming environment
- Expanding your resume early on in your college career
- Receiving an upperclassman campus leader as a mentor

The Global Living Center is home to a group of first-year students who are interested in getting involved at Bentley, but also making friends with individuals from all different backgrounds and cultures. The atmosphere supports high achieving individuals who share common goals and leadership interests. As part of the program, residents are able to attend several exciting programs that focus on different aspects of diversity. One program offered this year celebrated the Winter Season, asking each student to reflect on how they experience winter at home. The students were able to share information about their own culture, and learn how differently people adapt to the changing weather around the world.

“I love living in the GLC because you get to meet people from all walks of life and become even more well cultured. It is a great place to understand similarities that everyone has, while also embracing everyone’s differences.”
