MBA: ECONOMICS OF FINANCIAL MARKETS CONCENTRATION

Advisor: David Gulley, dgulley@bentley.edu, 781-891-2355

The Economics of Financial Markets concentration aims to produce graduates with a thorough understanding of the complexities of international financial and economic markets. In an increasingly interdisciplinary world, the concentration envisions synergistic connections between the two separate but inter-related disciplines of economics and finance that make the whole greater than the sum of its parts. The interlocking of the two disciplines through the carefully selected courses will provide a needed breadth of vision of both the national and international economic and financial landscapes, thus equipping our students to meet and effectively solve future problems in the field.

COMPLETE 1 REQUIRED COURSE AND 3 ELECTIVES.

REQUIRED (1):

EC 611 The Macroeconomics of Financial Markets

MBA: INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND TECHNOLOGY CONCENTRATION

CS Course Advisor: Wendy Lucas, wlucas@bentley.edu, 781-891-2554
 IDCC Course Advisor: Mary Marcel, mmarcel@bentley.edu, 781-891-2054
 IPM Course Advisor: Alina Chircu, achircu@bentley.edu, 781-891-3492

The IST concentration is intended to give MBA students access to the full array of learning provided by the graduate coursework offered by the Computer Information Systems, Information Design and Corporate Communication, and Information and Process Management departments. The concentration is achieved by completing any four graduate courses bearing CS, IDCC, or IPM designators - constrained only by the prerequisites of individual choices. MBA students are encouraged to explore the full range of IST offerings and fashion a four course composition that enriches and aligns with their individual aspirations for an MBA. Your IST concentration might be designed to provide a broad overview of information, communication, systems, and technology courses. Alternatively, you can focus your courses in one discipline (CS, IDCC, or IPM). Or you may choose a more career-focused selection of courses to provide a gateway into managing IT in a particular organizational role. Examples of such career-focused selections are: IT Consulting, Information and Data Management, Managing IT in the Organization, and Design of Information Systems.
